I stand and wait
beneath the spinning board of time and destination.
Advent darkness soothes this city,
abustle under wheeling stars,
myriad souls in ceaseless motion,
while I am still, and breathe.

And suddenly I catch,
above the pulsing throng,
piped in from God knows where,
Christmas Muzak, hybrid carols, offense to no one,
tinsel fare to entertain,
as we ride the escalators,
search for tickets,
glance at clocks.

More Bandwidth: With the increasing number of users, the bandwidth has been doubled. That means that even during times of very heavy usage, delays in uploading and downloading files and streaming will rarely occur.

Enhanced Reliability: The next major step the Colrain Broadband Board is working on is to ensure the system has redundancy, so that if there is an interruption of the fiber route carrying our signals, then a second backup route is automatically available.

Emergency Broadband Benefit Program: Colrain Broadband customers can apply as shown here.

Planning Board asks for input re: short term rentals (Airbnb/vacation)

Some issues have arisen with regard to short-term rentals in town, and the current bylaws are unclear; so the Planning Board is considering changes and would like your input!

Please attend (virtually) the next Planning Board meeting December 1st at 6pm, check-in info here. Anyone wishing to speak will have 3 minutes.

Selectboard decides to use ARPA funds to pay down Broadband construction cost Colrain has been allocated $486,484 in federal ARPA (American Rescue Plan Act) funds, and the Colrain Selectboard voted on 9/14 to utilize this funding to help reduce our debt for the broadband project. The rationale was that this was the best eligible use in order to equitably benefit every taxpayer.

According to Town Coordinator Kevin Fox, one of the allowable uses for this funding is broadband internet service, and the timing worked out as our system was under construction and incurring costs during the time period allowed. Of the $486,484 total, $86,927 has been received and the remainder will be distributed in tranches through Fiscal Year 2022.

Note that the State is the recipient of 3.82 billion more in ARPA funding. The House and the Senate recently approved legislation for how to spend

You may apply if your property is: 1) overvalued (assessed value is more than fair cash value on January 1st for any reason, 2) disproportionately assessed in comparison with other properties, 3) classified incorrectly as residential, open space, commercial or industrial real property, or 4) partially or fully exempt.

PFAS Testing - Free to Colrain homeowners

Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (MassDEP)'s now has a free sampling and analysis program for per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) in private drinking water wells. Because these chemicals have been used in many consumer products over the past 50 years, most people have been exposed to them. PFAS have been found to seep into surface soils, groundwater and surface water, and thereby contaminate drinking water, and exposures have been linked to a variety of health risks.

Because PFAS have been widely used in consumer products, septic systems and landfills may also be sources of PFAS in groundwater. You may wish to sample your well even without knowledge of specific potential sources of PFAS contamination, because many potential sources of PFAS have yet to be identified.

Colrain Transfer Station Did you Know?

Did you know that our Colrain Transfer Station is actually able to accept items like tires, bulky waste (appliances, etc.), scrap metal, and construction waste on a regular basis? Many Franklin County towns have only one or two dates a year when their special waste can be accepted; we are fortunate that Colrain's schedule is much more open.

Fluorescent bulbs, including compact fluorescent lights (CFLs), some types of batteries, and mercury items are accepted at our Colrain transfer station. Handle carefully and hand to attendant.

In addition, fluorescent light bulbs are accepted at Lowe's Stores (all types), and Home Depot (CFLs only).

Batteries and items such as fluorescent light bulbs, thermometers, and thermostats may contain mercury or heavy metals and should never be put in trash or recycling.

Recycle Your Clothing and Textiles!

A Salvation Army drop box for textile recycling is located at our Transfer Station.

Repairs are underway at the Pitt House! Work on the foundation and cellar will reduce moisture, and the Dining room will become an exhibit room for historical items. The intent is for the Pitt House to feature Colrain history as well as the history of the house and Mr. Pitt.

Also, the Stacy Barn is now handicapped accessible and the intent is to host in-person meetings next year.

A capital campaign is underway. Look forward to a fundraising event next spring on Colrain's famous "Dude Ranch".

New Signage at the Bridge

Commission.

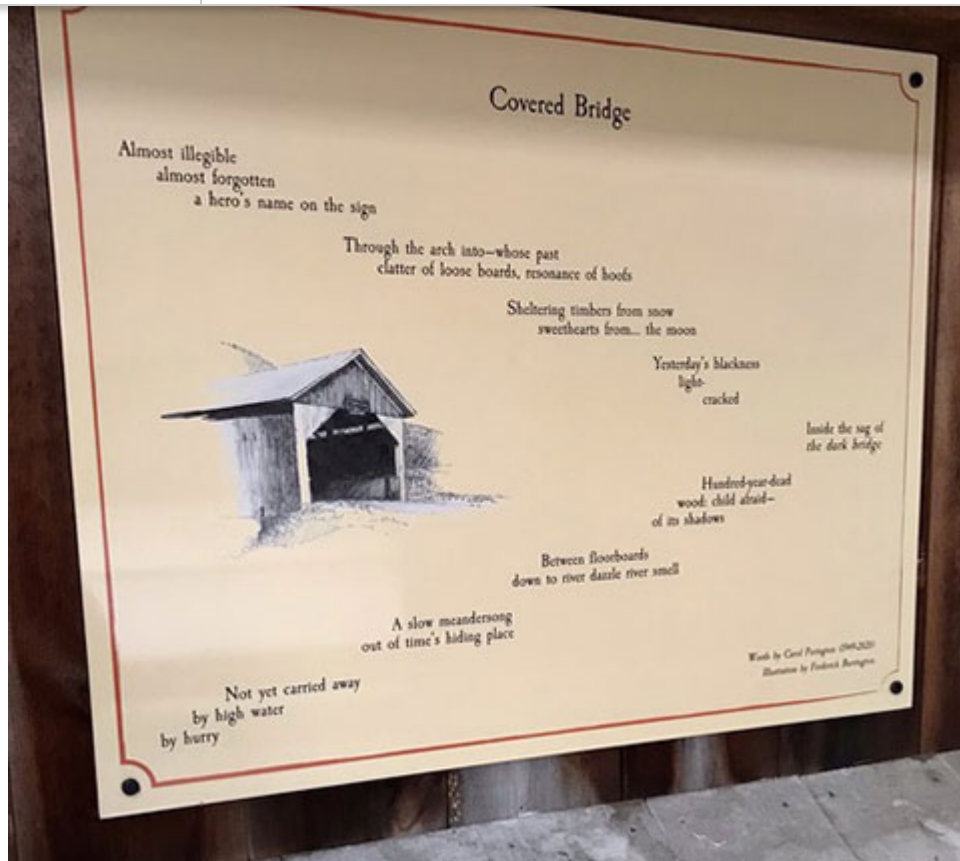

It's inside the bridge on the west end, bearing the elegiac poem about this bridge by the late Carol Purington and a drawing by Heath artist Fred Burrington.

Plans for this sign were begun before Carol's death last year, and it remains a fitting memorial to Colrain's unofficial poet laureate.

In the image below, you can see the sign tucked in the corner there inside the bridge. To read most easily, it's best to stand just before it, but here's a link to read it now.
